Centenary College of Louisiana

This institution was founded in the year 1825, at Jackson, Louisiana, under the name of "The College of Louisiana." Later the name was changed to "Centenary College of Louisiana."

In the minute book of the faculty, under date of October 7th, 1861, the following appears written across the entire page:

"Students have all gone to war.
College suspended and God help the right!"

College buildings were occupied by the Union troops throughout the Civil War. Much damage was done to all of the property, with the exception of the Union Literary Society Hall. It is presumed that its name protected it.

One of the unique regulations of the college at this period, was one limiting the number of hound dogs that a student might bring to school with him to two. This regulation still remains.

At the beginning of the 108th Session of the College beginning upon September 19, 1932, a most remarkable change is noticed relative to the growth of the College. When Centenary first moved to Shreveport in 1908, the student body was nominal. The enrollment for 1920 was 43. The enrollment for 1932 is 900.

Whereas, the College was without any special endowment fund in its early days, as of June, 1932, this fund totaled $770,000.

As an annual commercial value to the City of Shreveport the 900 students are worth approximately $900,000.

Centenary is a member of the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States, the Association of American Colleges, and the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Since 1921, the College has graduated 535 students. The class of 1932, numbered 70 members.

There are at present at the school, students from 15 States of the United States and six foreign countries.

Centenary has now reached its limit in enrollment. The great need of the College is for new buildings and additional endowment to adequately care for the students now in attendance, as well as for those who wish to come.

Centenary College Coaches

Homer H. Norton, Athletic Director and Head Coach

Coach Norton has been connected with the Athletic Department at Centenary since 1920, and has had a big share in the development of high class athletics at the college. Since becoming Head Coach his teams have made an enviable record. Centenary's record since Norton has been with the College shows 81 per cent of the games won.

Curtis Parker, Assistant Coach

Parker joined the Centenary coaching staff four years ago, after a successful athletic career at the University of Arkansas, where he graduated. Parker has proved himself to be a capable and efficient assistant to Coach Norton.

FRESHMAN COACHING STAFF

Alvin Brown moves up to the position of head freshman coach this year. Last year Brown worked with Fred Willis. During his playing days at Centenary Brown was recognized as one of the smartest field generals that Centenary has ever produced.

Blanchard Johnson, assistant freshman coach, is serving his first year on the Centenary Coaching Staff. Johnson will be working with the freshman linemen and it is hoped that he will be able to instill some of his fine qualities on line play to his players.

CHANGES IN RULES FOR 1932

All of the football changes for this season have one purpose in view, that is for the protection and safety of a player. The rule makers have made these changes without taking a bit of color or action from the game.

Rule 5, Section 2, now permits a player withdrawn from the game to return any time except in the quarter in which he is withdrawn. This change will allow the coach to rest some of his tiring players during the closing minutes of the first and third quarters and the player will be permitted to return to the game, as sated above.

Rule 5, Section 3, requires certain padding on hard and unyielding equipment.

Rule 8, Section 2, requires five players within fifteen yards of the kicker. This rule was put in force to do away with the old wedge. By requiring five players within 5 yards of the kick-off man they will not have time to get back and form a wedge. The return of the kick-off must be made by individual blocking and not by mass play.

Rule 7, Section 7, makes the ball dead when any portion of the player in possession of the ball, except his hands and feet, touches the ground. This does not apply to the holder of the ball in a place kick.

Rule 10, Section 1, prohibits the flying tackle and flying block. Rule 10, Section 2, deals with the use of the hands of defensive linemen in not allowing them, as in by-gone years, to punish opposing players.
